

A photograph showing a red metal mesh fence installed on a concrete base. The fence is positioned next to a grey wall and a paved area. Behind the fence, there is green foliage and a glimpse of a building. The fence appears to be made of galvanized steel with a red powder-coat finish. The concrete base is a simple, low wall. The ground in the foreground is paved with light-colored square tiles.

